Hello Caravana,

Thank you for your message.

Yes, I can definitely build the exact website you're looking for.

If you have any reference websites or examples, please share them with me so I can better understand your requirements.

Looking forward to your response.

Best regards,
Hasibur

I understand your requirements and can build your website to meet your expectations.

No matter what you need, I will ensure timely delivery. I can create your website using WordPress, Shopify, or a fully custom solution, depending on what suits you best.

Just let me know which technology you prefer, and we can get started.

I'm here to assist you with those technologies.

WordPress is great, but if you really want the best, I suggest a custom website.
Unlike WordPress, custom-built websites are not template-based.
It's fully custom-coded, which gives you a faster and more efficient experience.

Yes, I sure can.
I can share both custom websites and WordPress website links so that you can understand my skills and experience.

Me May 01, 9:39 AM
Here are some of my recent works.
Just being transparent with you, these are not gaming websites.
But your website is basically an e-commerce website, and the links I shared are also e-commerce sites.
And these are also similar to your requirement.
Here are the website links:
Custom Website:
- <https://www.thecollective.in/>
- <https://mlah.shop/>
- <https://www.razcofoods.net/en>
WordPress Website:
- <https://justintimehero.com/>
Please review them and share your thoughts with me.

Ok et au lesquelles est le meilleur en SEO?
For any type of website development, a custom-built solution is always the most powerful option.
While CMS platforms like WordPress or WooCommerce are excellent and widely used, they are generally template-based, which can introduce certain limitations in flexibility and performance.
A custom-built website, on the other hand, offers unmatched control, efficiency, and scalability.
It allows you to design and develop exactly what you need, without being restricted by predefined structures or plugins.
With a custom solution, you can build anything, exactly the way you envision it.
Your creativity sets the direction, and the possibilities are virtually limitless.
So I can provide both kinds of websites, and you choose which one you want.
Let me know, and I will assist you with the direction you want to take.

Mainly, you want to create an arcade game sales website, right?
So you want to list so many arcade games on your website, there are so many product listings needed, and you need WooCommerce setup also, for better output.
My premium is for 15 product listings. Can you please tell me how many products you want to list on your website at the initial level?

caravana75 May 01, 5:53 PM
Je pense 40/50 produits

Me May 01, 6:01 PM
Let me explain

Me May 01, 6:12 PM
For your business, you need a full e-commerce website, and I would strongly recommend WordPress with WooCommerce.
It's the best option for your budget because it is easy to manage, scalable, and perfect for selling products like arcade machines.
Here are the key features your website will include:
- Product listing (40-50 arcade machines)

- Category & filter system (by type, price, etc.)
- Product detail pages with images & descriptions
- Add to cart & checkout system
- Payment integration
- Quote request option (WITH Request a Quote)
- Mobile responsive design
- SEO-friendly structure
- Admin panel (so you can easily manage products)

Regarding pricing, in my gig I mentioned 10 products, but since you need around 40-50 products, I will adjust the work accordingly.

I can complete your full website within $400 USD, including:

- Setup of all products
- Premium design (Envato elements)
- Full e-commerce setup
- 50 days free maintenance support

Timeline: Around 15 days for full completion.

This will give you a professional and powerful sales website, similar to your reference, but fully tailored to your business.

Let me know your thoughts, and I can get started right away.

Best regards,
Hasibur
